

MIFFLIN COUNTY

The Department provides the following programs and specialized services:

- Batterers' Program – Offenders ordered by the Court to enroll in a Batterers' Program are referred by the Department to the Clear Concepts Treatment Center for enrollment in its 26-week Batterers' Group. There is a $30 fee per weekly session. Staff at Clear Concepts completes a financial work up on an offender prior to admission into the group. Based on an offender's ability to pay, an offender may only be required to pay a portion of the cost of treatment while the Department pays the difference.
- Community Service Work Program – One (1) adult probation officer is responsible for coordinating all community service work sites, developing new work sites, and insuring that all offenders Court-ordered to complete community service work do so within the prescribed time frame.
- Day Reporting Center – The Day Reporting Center Program is an alternative to incarceration in that the offenders will be under intensive supervision provided by the Probation Department after being ordered to attend the Program by the sentencing judge. The Program is ninety (90) days long, and broken down to three (3) phases. A person can expect to complete the Program in three (3) months if there are no violations. The Program requirements consist of completion of daily activity forms, maintaining employment, attendance at recommended counseling sessions, remaining drug and alcohol free, and any other requirements that the Department identifies as necessary to assist the offender.
- Driving Under the Influence (DUI) Checkpoint Program – The Adult Probation Supervisor is the DUI Coordinator. He, also, coordinates and runs yearly DUI Checkpoints throughout the County in conjunction with the Mifflin County Regional Police. This Program is funded through the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation.
- Electronic Monitoring (EM) – The Department utilizes Electronic Monitoring (radio frequency) primarily as a sanctioning tool, but it is, also, used as a sentencing alternative for those offenders sentenced to intermediate punishment. Three (3) adult probation officers are responsible for the installation and maintenance of all the Department's EM units. These adult probation officers, also, monitor all EM activity and maintain supervision of the majority of offenders on EM.

The Department also completes the Court Reporting Network (CRN) evaluations for the Court.
